Rep. George T. Darany, from the 15th District, offered the following invocation:

“Holy Father, we stand before You today in reverence to You and devotion to the will of Your people. We ask that our work be not confrontational, but rather that we find the unity that comes with our common humanity and our desire for justice and equality for all the people of our great state. Let us be not only representatives of those who rely upon us, but let us also be representatives of those ideals which were brought forth to us, over the centuries, through all of Your holy books, by the great men and women upon whose shoulders we stand today. We humbly ask this in Your name, Amen.”

The Speaker Pro Tempore called Associate Speaker Pro Tempore O'Brien to the Chair.

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Stamas moved that the following remarks be printed in the Journal.
The motion prevailed.

Rep. Womack:

“Feeling gratitude and not expressing it is like wrapping a present and not sending it.”

Wm A. Ward

With genuine gratitude, I thank each and every one of you for this opportunity to share a few words about the journey I took to get here today, a journey that began when I accepted a call to ordained ministry.

A little over 10 years ago I realized, after close to 15 years as a practicing physician specializing in the practice of anesthesia and pain management, that people were hurting at a deeper level, a spiritual level if you will.

Shortly thereafter I entered seminary seeking a better understanding of good and evil and became ordained.

Be careful what you asked for is often heard and here what it meant for me.

Shortly after ordination, I became an elected official serving on the Detroit Public School Board as their first president following a 9 year state takeover, and for the record, DPS has been under state control for over 12 years and remains so today.

Very tragically and unexpected, I lost my wife, Sophie, also a physician and hospital administrator and just about one of the most complete persons I have ever met. My daughters, Brandi and Ashley grieve today over the loss of their mother, a loving spouse, mother and friend.

Prior to her death, Sophie and now State Senator Virgil Smith asked me to run for Virgil's former house seat.

I told them both absolutely not, but no matter how well you plan your day, God ultimately gives the measure.

In honor of my wife and following her unexpected death on February 17th 2008, and recognizing to whom much is given much is required, I took on the task of running for state representative in House District 7.

I have been told it was the largest pool of candidates in such a race, I could be wrong.

But what I'm right about is this; it was a tough campaign as most are. Maybe tougher, but worth the journey.

It was said I was not a real medical professional, I am.

It was said that I was not ordained, I am.

It was said, my suits cost too much money, and they do, because in my world, anything over a $100 is too much. I am more frugal than some may think.

Campaign rhetoric hurts each of us and it harms our democratic system.

Many untruths, many false accusations and at the end of the day, all that was said, was much to do about nothing.

That doesn't mean that the chatter did not hurt, it does and it hurts all of us that put forth to serve. The equation is twisted!

And by the way, anyone who tells you it's not personal, news flash, it is very personal.

But there is a blessing in all of this. God will often make your enemies your footstool. When you are trying to do what is honorable and pleasing in His eyes, that is biblical, that is personal and political!

During the past seven years I learned a lot, a lot about myself as well as about the political process.

I've learned that what Jack say's about Jill say's more about Jack than it does about Jill. I learned that you should be careful about what you say about others and how you treat people, because it ain't no fun when the rabbits got the gun.

I've learned that when some elected officials say they represent the people, I can only hope not my people.

Why you might say, here's why?

I'm glad you asked. Because I love them and want what's best for them.

The God I worship has given those who believe the gift to choose, and that is why I support the democratic process.

As flawed as it may, be it is still the best political system in the world.

I am reminded of this everyday when I look at the pen that what was given to my grandmother, Mrs. Ella Mae Gothard-Bransom, a Republican, by President Lyndon B. Johnson a Democrat, who used the pen to sign the 1965, Voter's Right Amendment. Legislation that, by the way, we find under attack. Imagine that, a bill creating voting rights in a free society under attack. It time to untwist things, and I trust the genesis of that notion is within this Chamber.

Along the way I've met some bad, really bad people, some spiritually bankrupt people. People who will say and do anything to get their way. Whose only concern is what have you done for me lately, who seem to forget the many things you may have done well or for them, these same people won't let you live down the one thing they believe you've done wrong.

I met people who will forget who I am if they have not already done so, not because you can easily forget that Jimmy Womack has been in the house literally and figuratively, but because in their eyes, I no longer have value or they believe I can no longer deliver for them or carry their water. To these people I say thank you and good bye.

I have also met some very good people, some anointed people, people who walk the walk and not just talk the talk.

Individuals whose yes is yes and no is no, people like many of you here today, who would greet me with a smile regardless of what you might be dealing with on a personal level.

People who would call me to check on me when I was not present, who would share cookies with me, pray for me who would call me on my birthday, who defended me when others would falsely accuse me of things I didn't do, couldn't do and wouldn't do, people who understand that I don't have to be wrong for them to be right.

To these people I say thank you, I will see you later.

It's been a great journey serving in the House, one, I will never forget.

One area this public service has compromised is the time I could not be with my daughters and others I love.

I now have the opportunity to engage family and friends with quality time, love and care.

It will just get better going forward.

Jesus said, '...That what you do for the least of them you also do for me' and the more you give the more you get back.

My dear colleagues: I beseech you to love people even if you don't like them and to forgive over and over again, because we all fall short the glory of God.

In closing, I thank God for giving me the opportunity to have this experience un-matched by any other that I've had.

I thank the constituents of House District 7 for electing me, those who endorsed me or supported me because they believed in me, those who worked against me because it freed me, I want to thank the chairs of the committees on which I served for their dignity and patience. I want to thank leadership on both sides of the aisle although I don't agree with everything you do. I want to thank my staff, Danielle Johnson and Jason Mims. Finally, I thank my friends, family and all of you.

For those of you who might be wondering what in the world am I going to do next, it's whatever God calls me to do.

My prayer was not to get re-elected but to give honor and glory to God.

My dear friends, there is a time for departure even when there's no certain place to go, so I let go and trust in the natural evolution of my soul.

May!...The Lord bless you, and keep you;

May!...The Lord make His face shine upon you,

And be gracious to you;

May!...The Lord lift up His countenance upon you,

And give you peace."

The Speaker Pro Tempore resumed the Chair.

Point of Order

Rep. Segal requested a ruling of the Chair as there is a lawsuit being filed because the building is closed and requests that the House recess until such time that the building is open.

The Chair ruled that the lawsuit has no bearing on the House doing business and that people are coming and going from the building.

Rep. Segal appealed the decision of the Chair.

The question being, "Shall the judgment of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?"

The judgment of the Chair stood as the judgment of the House, a majority of the members present voting therefor, by yeas and nays, as follows:

Comments and Recommendations

Rep. Gilbert:

"I will be brief - I want to keep Pete Lund's' attention to the end. I have a few remarks about him I want him to hear. We all know Pete has the attention span of a Labrador retriever.

My overriding thought today is one of gratitude. I am grateful to God for this experience in my life. One man who works in this chamber helped lead me to enter the Catholic Church - I will be eternally grateful to him.

It had been a desire of mine to serve in the legislature since I was very young. The reason, I believe, was hearing about my Grandpa serving many years ago.

I lost both my parents during this time; my Dad in the Primary just before I was elected and my Ma during my second election for the Senate. I think they prepared me well for serving. They gave me a sense of duty and to do it cheerfully. Holly will attest I am particularly good at being cheerful. A special thanks to my brother who took care of our parents and the business while I served and campaigned. I couldn't have done this without him.

I need to mention Shirley Wallace. Shirley called me just after I was sworn in and asked if I wanted a prayer partner. She has contacted me every month over the last 14 years to see if I had any requests. Her commitment to Jesus Christ is an inspiration to me.

I need to express my thanks to the clerks, maintenance staff, IT, human resources and the Sergeants for making this experience so enjoyable. Between the policy staff and my staff, they have actually made me look like I know what I was doing a couple of times.

In a 14 year period you have a lot of staff. I am going to mention only two. Gary Muentener, who was with me for almost all my 14 years - that's loyalty - and Gabe Basso, who single-handedly prolonged Senate session an additional hour one late December night. I've had a lot of seat-mates, and we all know how important they become to us. Let me mention one. I sat next to Senator Sanborn for eight years. One time when he was presiding, he introduced me as the former Captain of Algonac High's Men's Synchronized-Swimming Team. He is one of a kind - we can all be thankful for that.

14 years is a long time to do anything. To put it in perspective, when I took office Frank and Andrea were eleven, and Mark Ouimet had just applied for a replacement AARP card after wearing out the first one.

There has always been a rivalry between the House and Senate, and Mark Meadows has repeatedly reminded me of everything that's wrong with the Senate. One story from the Senate: There were two Senators sitting in the Farnum building and looking at the Capitol. One said, 'It is a great honor to be a State Senator; 10-million people and only 38 of us.' The other said, 'Yes, it is an honor to be a Senator, but with 10-million people, don't you think they could have done better?' Looking at the current Senate, maybe not. At the end of my political career there is one face to remind me of the beginning, and oh what a face. I met Peter Lund back in 1990. He was managing a Congressional race and I was a volunteer (By the way, our candidate got about 40%). I was wondering if Jase had that on his resume when he asked to be Campaign chair. I want you all to know Pete is the same guy today that he was back then, even after all his success and election to the house leadership, he's still the same guy (funny thing is he thinks that is a compliment).

Thanks to Jase and Jim for how well the floor has been run, the best in my 14 years. I want to thank all of you for your kindness to me. I respect all of you for having the guts to put your name on the ballot and serve. Thanks to Holly and Andrea who made me laugh just about every day. Ma said the best people are the ones who make you laugh. But I am thankful for the Macomb Co. graduates I served with. If it wasn't for Al Sanborn, Pete Lund, and Andrea LaFontaine, I would be the crazy one."

Rep. Tyler:

“As I look back on my four years as the state representative for the 78th district, I am reminded of what an honor — and a pleasure — it has been to serve the state of Michigan as a whole and the people of the Great Southwest in particular.

I first decided to run for this office after I had testified before the Senate Finance Committee about the job-killing Michigan Business Tax. With over 30 years of experience as an economic developer, I knew that this tax needed to be abolished — and I knew that I could not sit back and wait for others to fix the problem.

Now, as I prepare to leave office, I think back to my very first House Bill — known as the ‘Just Shoot ‘Em’ bill — and it is amazing to think of all the laws I have voted on in these past four years. We have removed burdensome regulations, balanced the state’s budget, improved efficiency and become more transparent as a governing body. The Michigan Business Tax has been repealed, and we are in the process of reinventing and reinvigorating Michigan. The road to recovery has been long — and we have not reached the end yet — but we as a legislature should be proud of what we have accomplished to repair this state.

But being a representative is about so much more than creating, amending or repealing laws — it is about listening to our constituents and taking care of them. This, above all else, has been the greatest part of my job. I am honored to have been a part of so many people’s lives, and I hope that I have served them well.

There are aspects of my time in Lansing I will definitely NOT miss — having to run for office every two years, being locked in chambers as we struggled to balance the budget, waking up on the couch of our Green House apartment soaking wet because the roof was leaking.

However, these pale in comparison to the fond memories I will carry with me for the rest of my life and the things I will miss about being a state representative. This job has given me the opportunity to do so many things I would not have been able to do otherwise.

I traveled to Turkey with Representatives Agema and Liss, where I experienced their beautiful country and their wonderful hospitality. I also learned how to barter over a python coat that Representative Agema wanted to purchase for his wife.

I climbed the Mackinac Bridge with Representatives Haines, Kowall, Rogers, Geiss, Genetski and Bolger, where I got lost inside the bridge’s tower and had to use Representative Rogers’ voice to find my way out.

I was able to meet Tommy James and present him with a tribute in front of the Senate. As we were walking down the aisle, he told me it felt like we were getting married.

I also met Ted Nugent, who was here to testify about the feral swine legislation. After snapping a picture with him and his son, Toby, I gave Toby my beloved ‘Cat Scratch Fever’ album in the hopes that Ted would sign it. He never did, and I never got the album back. So Ted Nugent, wherever you are, you owe me a copy of ‘Cat Scratch Fever!’

I will miss looking out of my office’s bay window and seeing our beautiful Capitol, just as I will miss my fellow representatives. I will miss our caucus meetings, the barbecues on Hayford Street, introducing the Blossomtime court each summer and being chauffeured around town by Representatives Nesbitt, Genetski, Stamas, Walsh, Haines and Pettalia to name just a few.

I will always remember the experience of sharing one bedroom and one bathroom with seven female colleagues — despite my best efforts to forget some of those cramped, cold nights.

I will miss those ‘Jedi Knights and Protectors of the Universe’ — the desk sergeants — who found me passed out in the elevator after donating blood. Luckily, I had my ‘I Gave Blood’ sticker on, or they would have called 9-1-1!

And every March, I will miss reading ‘House Mouse, Senate Mouse’ to the students in my district and answering the all-important question, ‘Is Steven Tyler your brother?!’ (The answer, of course, is yes.)

However, these great memories would not have been possible without the great people I shared them with, and I would also like to use this time to thank those amazing colleagues and friends.

Thank you first, and foremost, to God.

And a heartfelt thank you to my friends, family and my constituents. Without you (and your votes), none of this would have been possible.

Thank you to the clerks who have served us so diligently, and to Dawn Doerr and the rest of our communications staff who has, somehow, managed to make us all look good in the media.

Thank you to our maintenance crew, who rescued my keys after I had dropped them down the elevator shaft, and to Joe Baumann and Fred Schaible from my first term, who were both always available and willing to answer my questions.

I also want to thank my amazing staff, who has taken such good care of me over the years. You are like family to me.

Amy, who is now working for the Michigan Retailers Association, but who was there for me when my late husband passed away. You have always made me look good — whether it was introducing legislation, running my campaigns or picking out the most flattering pictures of me.

Will, who made sure I didn’t get lost during my first term and walked me to all of my committee meetings for two entire years. You have taken such good care of both me and my constituents.

Lauren, who is an exceptional writer. You have been very patient with me and my constituents, and you are truly a sweetheart.

And Greg, my long-term intern, who is always excited and enthusiastic to be there. Thank you all for your dedication to this office and to the people we serve.

And a special thank you to Representative Haines, my co-founder of the Blonde Caucus. We have gotten massages and gone on shopping trips, done donuts in my Hummer and shared secrets, hard times and glasses of wine. You are the person I could confide in, and we could always call each other at any time of the day or night. You have gotten us into a lot of trouble over the years by using my name instead of yours — but you are my best friend in Lansing, and a dear friend everywhere else. You will be deeply missed.

Though I am leaving here to begin a new journey as the 38th Berrien County Clerk, this experience — and these people — will always be a part of my life. Thank you for these past four years, and God bless you all.”

The Speaker Pro Tempore resumed the Chair.

The question being on agreeing to the title of the bill,

Rep. Stamas moved to amend the title to read as follows:

A bill to amend 1939 PA 176, entitled "An act to create a commission relative to labor disputes, and to prescribe its powers and duties; to provide for the mediation and arbitration of labor disputes, and the holding of elections thereon; to regulate the conduct of parties to labor disputes and to require the parties to follow certain procedures; to regulate and limit the right to strike and picket; to protect the rights and privileges of employees, including the right to organize and engage in lawful concerted activities; to protect the rights and privileges of employers; to make certain acts unlawful; and to prescribe means of enforcement and penalties for violations of this act,” by amending the title and sections 1, 2, 8, 14, 17, and 22 (MCL 423.1, 423.2, 423.8, 423.14, 423.17, and 423.22).

The motion prevailed.

The House agreed to the title as amended.

Rep. Zorn, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:
“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:
My vote was representative of District 56.”

Rep. Bledsoe, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:
“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

Mr. Speaker, I struggled to come up with the right approach for this speech. In the end, concluding that there was enough passion out there and that my passionate voice was un-needed, I decided to revert to my primary career role of, for want of a better term ‘dispelling ignorance.’ There is a lot of ignorance involving right to work.

The primary argument I hear on behalf of a right to work bill involves the unfettered freedom of workers to choose to avoid dues or agency fees. Freedom: a noble goal but a much-abused concept. Who, after all, can be opposed to ‘freedom’.

But indeed there are a number of cases, almost identical to the agency shop, where freedom is compromised – indeed – compromised by conservative and Republican leaning economic players.

Ever heard of the slogan ‘The Incredible, Edible Egg’ – Most of you have. Egg producers used this as a marketing tool to promote their industry – funded by a compulsory fee – a compulsory fee – on large egg producers.

Ever heard of the slogan ‘Beef – Its what’s for dinner’ – Most of you have. Cattle ranchers were assessed a per head fee – a compulsory per-head fee – on all cattle brought to slaughter in the United States. And yes, this was challenged in court – and upheld.

Ever heard of Pork being the other white meat? You guessed it – a marketing campaign by pork producers and funded by a per pig fee – a compulsory per pig fee – on every hog brought to slaughter.

‘Got Milk?’ Who has not heard that slogan by Dairy Producers funded by a per gallon fee — excuse me, a compulsory per gallon fee — on all milk sold in the United States.

So please, let’s keep these arguments for economic freedom in perspective. Freedom is rarely absolute, and compulsory workplace fees are not at all uncommon.

Another point about which there appears to be some confusion is the ‘Free rider problem’. To be clear, it IS a fact that federal law REQUIRES unions to represent and work for all employees in the workplace, union members and non-members – even pursuing grievances against management on behalf of non-members. This is called the ‘Duty of Fair Representation’ and is derived from court rulings pertaining to the National Labor Relations Act. Free-riders do exist in every right to work state – and will exist in Michigan. The get-something and pay nothing motive runs strong among many people – too many.

The economic prosperity argument offers that a right to work law will bring new jobs to Michigan. There are any number of economic analyses involving macro-economic outcomes associated with right to work laws. The evidence is really not compelling that new jobs are created in right to work states. The simple fact is that there are too many other cultural, economic, and policy differences among the states to conclude that right to work laws cause the creation of new jobs.

Let me talk of two other areas of common ignorance pertaining to right to work – ignorance of our state’s important labor history and ignorance involving democratic principles and political accountability.

In some ways, Michigan is the birthplace of the modern labor movement in America. It wasn’t an easy birthing by any means.

Strikes and violence against strikers was common in the 1930s. Reading an account of the so-called ‘Battle of the Overpass’ that took place in Detroit in May of 1937 gives one a chilling appreciation for the difficulties faced by early union organizers here in Michigan.

I am quoting and paraphrasing here: ‘At approximately 2 p.m., several of the leading UAW union organizers, including Walter Reuther, were asked by a Detroit News photographer to pose for a picture on the overpass, with the Ford sign in the background. While they were posing, men from Ford’s Service Department, an internal security force, came from behind and began to beat them. The number of attackers is disputed, but may have been as many as 40.

Walter Reuther described some of the treatment he received: ‘Seven times they raised me off the concrete and slammed me down on it. They pinned my arms . . . and I was punched and kicked and dragged by my feet to the stairway, thrown down the first flight of steps, picked up, slammed down on the platform and kicked down the second flight. On the ground they beat and kicked me some more. . .’

One union organizer suffered a broken back as the result of the beating he received.

The company security men then beat some of the beret-wearing women arriving to pass out leaflets, along with some reporters and photographers, while Dearborn police at the scene largely ignored the violence.

Friends, this did not take place in apartheid South Africa, Communist Eastern Europe, North Korea, or another third world country; nor did anything like this take place in Mississippi, Alabama, or any other long standing right to work state. This is a part of Michigan's history, and a part of its history about which backers of right to work seem oblivious.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, as a close follower of democratic theory, let me point out how anti-democratic it is for a bill of this magnitude to be voted on by a membership the majority of whom are effective LAME DUCKS. That's right, of the 110 members who will vote on this and other bills this month, 57, a majority, are effective lame ducks.

You see, with term limits, neither those leaving this December 31st, nor those termed out December 31st of 2014, will face the voters again. There is no holding the majority of members of this chamber accountable for their votes, and thus this truly is a remarkably undemocratic effort. The founding fathers would turn over in their graves at the prospect of the walking political dead making monumental policy decisions that will shape outcomes for years to come.

Mr. Speaker, I hope my comments have served to shed some light on a subject about which there is much heat. A thoughtful consideration of the facts that I have presented will lead to a 'No' vote on right to work in Michigan.

Thank you Mr. Speaker."
