Dear God, we thank You so much for this glorious day. Lord, we thank You for the majesty of Your thunderstorms that water our ground. We just thank You for the majesty of each and every individual in this room, God, who You created in Your own image. We thank You so much for the opportunity to have representative government that seeks to serve the people of Michigan in a way that gives honor to You, God. We ask that as we go through all of our deliberations, that we keep our eyes focused on You, not on the wind and the waves as we step out of the boat of public service, God. Please guide us through the storms of life and guide us into Your presence so that when we seek the end of our term and service here, that we can earn that moniker from You of, "Well done, good and faithful servant." We ask this all in Jesus' name. Amen.

The President pro tempore, Senator Schuitmaker, led the members of the Senate in recital of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Today, we have the bittersweet occasion of celebrating the career of Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms LRoy Green. LRoy is leaving the Michigan Senate Police after 11 years of service.

LRoy started his career in 1975 with the Grand Ledge Police Department. In 1977, he took a new job with the Lansing Parks Police, and in 1981 he began a 25-year career with the Lansing Police Department. As a Lansing Police Officer, LRoy served in many specialized roles, including the Motorcycle Unit and the Special Tactics and Rescue Team.

In 2006, LRoy brought that wealth of knowledge and experience here, to the Michigan Senate. LRoy has diligently and effectively worked to keep our members, staff, and visitors safe. He is an irreplaceable asset to our body.

LRoy will be looking forward to a long retirement spent with his family and cross-country trips on his Harley. LRoy is joined today by his wife, Patricia, his daughter, and son-in-law. Would you all please join me in thanking LRoy for his service to our body and to the citizens of Michigan?

VEHICLES; FUND-RAISING REGISTRATION PLATE FOR CHOOSE LIFE MICHIGAN FUND; CREATE

June 30, 2017

Today I vetoed Senate Bill 163. This legislation is more emotionally and politically charged than most.

SB 163 would create the "Choose Life" fundraising license plate, the proceeds of which would go to the Choose Life Fund. Money from that fund would then be disbursed from the state to the private Choose Michigan Life Fund, which will in turn distribute funds to eligible nonprofit organizations of its choosing, such as crisis pregnancy centers, homes for pregnant women, and other organizations that provide support to pregnant women, outreach to at-risk populations, and promote alternatives to abortion. These are noble causes; but, having a private fund making funding decisions is a concern.

But SB 163 is not about a license plate; it's about the State of Michigan making a political statement. And that statement arouses strong emotional reaction that divides the residents of this state.

In 2015, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that when a state issues a specialty license plate, the state itself is speaking. (Walker v Tex Div, Sons of Confederate Veterans, Inc., 576 US ___; 192 L Ed 2d 274 [2015]) And as a speaker, it is free to choose its message. The Supreme Court noted that "[w]hen the government speaks it is entitled to promote a program, to espouse a policy, or to take a position. In doing so, it represents its citizens and it carries out its duties on their behalf."

The "Choose Life" license plate is a political message that has the potential to bitterly divide millions of Michiganders and that, in my view, is not appropriate for a state-issued license plate.

Sincerely,
Rick Snyder
Governor

This bill was returned from the Governor on June 30, 2017, at 10:51 a.m.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10

Senate Resolution No. 36

House Concurrent Resolution No. 3

The motion prevailed.

Senator Kowall offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 78.

A resolution to commemorate August 2017 as Meningococcal Immunization Awareness Month.

Whereas, Meningococcal disease is any infection caused by the bacterium Neisseria meningitidis, or meningococcus. Neisseria meningitidis bacteria can cause illness and spread through respiratory secretion; and

Whereas, In the United States, there are approximately 1,000-1,200 cases of meningococcal disease annually and 10-15 percent of infected individuals will die. Eleven to 19 percent of those who live will suffer from serious morbidity, including loss of limbs and impacts to the nervous system; and

Whereas, There have been several recent outbreaks of serogroup B meningococcal disease on college campuses, with some cases resulting in death. Emily Nicole Stillman was a 19-year-old sophomore at Kalamazoo College in February of 2013 when she contracted serogroup B meningococcal disease. Within 36 hours of calling home from her dorm room with a headache, she was brain dead. The vaccine that would have protected her was not yet available in the United States. Her family is committed to educating others about the disease to prevent other unnecessary deaths; and

Whereas, The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that decisions to vaccinate 16-23 year olds against serogroup B meningococcal disease should be made at the individual level. It is critical that students, parents, educators, and health care providers understand the dangers of meningitis B and are aware that a vaccine is available to prevent disease; now; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body commemorate August 2017 as Meningococcal Immunization Awareness Month in the state of Michigan. Statements

Senators Bieda and Colbeck asked and were granted unanimous consent to make statements and moved that the statements be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Bieda's statement is as follows:

I'd just like to take a couple of minutes to honor the work of Edward Deeb. He is a constituent who works in my district and he's the founder and chairman of Metro Detroit Youth Days. Today, myself and several of my colleagues would have been joining them on their 35th annual Metro Detroit Youth Day on Belle Isle in Detroit. Metro Detroit Youth Day provides an opportunity for youth to participate in constructive activities outside their immediate home areas. Metro Detroit Youth Day brings together the total community and the private sector to enhance community relationships and improve community harmony.

Edward has dedicated his time to aiding children who are the hope of the future. He founded the Michigan Youth Appreciation Foundation and the Metro Detroit Youth Day, where he volunteers to coordinate Metro Detroit Youth Day each and every year for the last 35 years. His tireless efforts to improve the quality of life for his community and the businesses he advocates for serve as an example for us all.

This year, Ed is also celebrating his 56th anniversary of being an active spokesman for the business community in Michigan, particularly southeast Michigan, as well as across the country. Edward founded the Michigan Food and Beverage Association, which is headquartered in Warren, and the Michigan Business and Professional Association. He serves as the chairman emeritus of the Eastern Markets Association. Considered the dean of association executives, Edward has served as a tireless voice for Michigan businesses, large and small, and helped resolve any issues that arise between merchants and residents.

Edward's efforts have garnered considerable praise, including the 477th Point of Light Award from President George H.W. Bush and the Points of Light Foundation, Michiganian of the Year from the Detroit News, and the Director's Community Service Award from former FBI Director Robert Mueller.

Edward is a graduate of Eastern High School in Detroit where he is inducted into their Hall of Fame. He also graduated from Michigan State University and is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and Air Force Reserve. He has demonstrated hard work and dedication over his 56 years of advocacy for the business community of Michigan. I just want to commend Ed and his team for their 35th anniversary of Metro Detroit Youth Day.

Senator Colbeck's statement is as follows:

In today's society it is pretty easy to find topics that divide people, but it's much more difficult to find topics that unite. But I'm happy to report that I have found one—Direct Primary Care Services. Many of you are aware of my years of advocacy on behalf of Direct Primary Care Services. Direct Primary Care can save over 20 percent on total health care costs, provide Medicaid enrollees with better access to primary care physicians, and improve the overall quality of care via preventive care.

I've been working with physicians who are free market advocates in Michigan and across the nation to expand the availability of the Direct Primary Care Service model to all Michigan residents, including those unable to afford private insurance. A couple of months ago, one of these physicians, Dr. Chad Savage, participated in a forum hosted by the Grand Rapids United Progressives. Yep, you heard me right. A free market health care advocate and progressive health care advocates participating in the same forum. Do you know what was even more amazing than that? They found common ground. What was that common ground? They both applauded the importance of Direct Primary Care Services in our health care system.

Do you know where else there is agreement on the importance of Direct Primary Care Services? Our federal government. In an environment where it has been difficult to find agreement on any policy regarding health care, Direct Primary Care is the exception. In fact, President Trump's budget proposal features a Direct Primary Care Medicaid initiative, and $100 billion in funding for stability and innovation grants to states. Thanks to the support of many of my colleagues in this body and the body across the hall, Michigan just so happens to have an innovated DPCS Medicaid pilot that should help stabilize our out-of-control Medicaid spending. In other words, the DPCS Medicaid pilot passed by the House and Senate is an ideal candidate for these federal grants.

In order to truly take advantage of this newfound appreciation for state-based innovations and provide long-term stability such as Medicaid, it is important to provide states like Michigan with long-term flexibility on how to best address the health care needs of our citizens. Our current Medicaid funding assistance from the federal government comes with a lot of strings. As of February 23, 2017, there were 1,337 rules, 1,130 proposed rules in the queue, and 3,377 notices for state Medicaid authorities to abide by. These strings significantly impair the ability of states to innovate.

One of these hidden strings is a barrier to getting reimbursed for patients using Direct Primary Care Services from doctors from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Service (CMS). How can we cut this string? By issuing Medicaid block grants to states free of regulatory strings. However, we need to be careful with the term block grants as not all block grants are the same.

One version of block grants is referred to as per capita block grants. Per capita block grants would appropriate a flat, capitated amount per Medicaid enrollee to the state. Per capita block grants are a bad idea because they incentivize states to add more people to the Medicaid rolls. How do they do that? At an FMAP rate of around 65 percent, the state would receive roughly $2.00 from the federal government for every $1.00 of state funding. By encouraging states to seek free federal money by growing their Medicaid rolls, this approach does not stabilize Medicaid spending at the state or at the federal level.

Another version of block grants is referred to as a lump sum block grant. Under this approach, states would receive a block grant of Medicaid funds equal to the previous year plus some inflationary adjustment. Under this type of Medicaid block grant, Michigan would receive roughly $12 billion each year without the federal strings. This approach incentivizes states to find ways to decrease the number of Medicaid enrollees, either by promoting employment of Medicaid eligible citizens in good paying jobs, or by lowering the cost of health care so that less people need financial assistance. Success would be measured on the basis of the number of Medicaid enrollees who no longer need government assistance. Furthermore, lump sum block grants would restrain the growth in federal Medicaid liabilities.

Now, if Michigan were to receive lump sum Medicaid block grants from the federal government, Direct Primary Care could help save taxpayers in excess of $3.5 billion per year while providing all 2.4 million Medicaid enrollees with better care. No wonder there is common ground on Direct Primary Care for both progressives and free market advocates such as myself.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to the order of
