Senate Bill 959 (Substitute S-1 as reported)
Sponsor: Senator Dale W. Zorn
Committee: Judiciary

CONTENT

The bill would amend the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards Act to do the following:

- Beginning January 1, 2020, require an individual seeking to become a licensed law enforcement officer, tribal law enforcement officer, fire arson investigator, or private college security officer to complete active violence response training.
- Require the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards (MCOLES) to promulgate rules establishing minimum standards for active violence response training.
- Beginning January 1, 2020, require an individual licensed as a law enforcement officer, tribal law enforcement officer, fire arson investigator, or private college security officer to complete active violence response training.

FISCAL IMPACT

The bill would result in training costs to the State or local government, or both. Though the bill does not specify how the costs of the proposed training would be shared, if at all, between MCOLES and local law enforcement, MCOLES estimates that the statewide cost of training new hires to law enforcement in active violence response would be approximately $141,000 annually, from 30 training sessions held yearly at 20 regional training academies, at a cost of $4,700 for each training session. The costs of training all 18,500 currently licensed law enforcement individuals, as the bill would require beginning January 1, 2020, is estimated by MCOLES to be $2.8 million.
