A SUMMARY OF HOUSE BILL 4674 AS INTRODUCED 4-23-97

Public Act 371 of 1988 added the crime of "ethnic intimidation" to the Michigan Penal Code. Under this provision of the penal code (Section 147b), a person is guilty of the crime of ethnic intimidation if he or she maliciously -- and with specific intent to intimidate or harass another person because of that person's race, religion, gender, or national origin -- does any of the following: (a) causes physical contact with another person, (b) damages, destroys, or defaces any real or personal property of another person, or (c) threatens (by word or act) to make physical contact or damage property, if there is reasonable cause to believe that the threatened act will occur.

The bill would amend this section of the penal code to change references to "ethnic intimidation" to "felonious intimidation" and to add sexual orientation to the list of characteristics covered under this section of the penal code.
