Senate Bill 397 (as introduced 3-2-99)
Sponsor: Senator George A. McManus, Jr.
Committee: Farming, Agribusiness and Food Systems

Date Completed: 3-10-99

CONTENT

The bill would amend Part 303 (Wetland Protection) of the Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Act (NREPA) to provide that activities reasonably necessary to begin and continue farming or to bring land into agricultural production, would be allowed in a wetland without a permit subject to other State laws and the owner's regulation.

(Under NREPA, among the uses allowed in a wetland without a permit are farming, horticulture, silviculture, lumbering, and ranching activities, including plowing, irrigation, irrigation ditching, seeding, cultivating, minor drainage, harvesting for the production of food, fiber, and forest products, or upland soil and water conservation practices. The Act prohibits wetland altered under this provision from being used for a purpose other than a described purpose without a permit from the Department of Natural Resources.)
