Rep. Christine Morse, from the 61st District, offered the following invocation:

“Today I offer an invocation of hope for our individual communities and our state as we recover from the difficulties of the past year. Dr. Nelson Mandela once said, ‘Our human compassion binds us the one to the other-not in pity or patronizingly but as human beings who have learnt how to turn our common suffering into hope for the future.’

The collective humanity of this body shines through, not only in times of sorrow, but also celebration. Last week, the Michigan Legislature made history as we passed a Pride Month Resolution for the first time under Republican Leadership.

We stood together to recognize the validity of the LGBTQ+ community, a population of people who have fought for decades to simply be allowed to exist. As queer identifying Michiganders and their allies celebrate the boundlessness of love and human identity, we find unity in their call for equity and acceptance. Last week’s vote proves to me this can be a legislative body that leads with compassion and understanding.

Moving forward, we have a grave responsibility, as representatives of our respective communities, as the people who decide where our considerable resources go, to help our communities recover from the last 14 months in an equitable manner. My prayer is that now, we as community leaders turn to our human compassion to provide hope for the future by our actions in this chamber.”

Rep. Rabhi moved that Rep. Liberati be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Alexander, Lightner, Breen, Clemente, Garza, Haadsma, Morse, Sabo, Sneller, Thanedar, Weiss, Yaroch and Young offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 125.

A resolution to declare June 9, 2021, as 102nd United States Colored Troops Day in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, The 102nd United States Colored Troops honorably and courageously served the United States and the state of Michigan during the Civil War; and

Whereas, The 102nd United States Colored Troops was Michigan’s only black regiment in the war. Many of its soldiers were former slaves who had escaped to freedom; and

Whereas, The unit was formed in 1863 as the First Michigan Colored Infantry Regiment. Although Michigan’s white regiments retained their state designation, the First Michigan Colored Infantry was renamed the 102nd United States Colored Troops when it began federal service in 1864; and

Whereas, The men of the 102nd United States Colored Troops and other black regiments served nobly despite the disparate treatment they received compared to white regiments. White soldiers were provided with enlistment bonuses, higher pay, and better equipment, while white officers were appointed to command black units; and

Whereas, Black regiments were generally assigned non-combat duties, such as the construction of fortifications or the destruction of Confederate railroads, but the 102nd United States Colored Troops also fought bravely in battle when opportunities arose; and

Whereas, The soldiers of the 102nd United States Colored Troops put their lives on the line to save the Union, an effort that ushered in the ratification of the Thirteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and the abolition of legalized slavery across the nation; and

Whereas, Michigan’s Governor and Legislature unanimously recognized the 102nd United States Colored Troops with the enactment of Public Act 494 of 2014, which designated the portion of Interstate 375 within Wayne County as the “102nd United States Colored Troops (U.S.C.T.) Memorial Highway” in honor of the regiment; and

Whereas, The state of Michigan preserves battle flags carried by Michigan troops, including flags used by the 102nd United States Colored Troops. Flag replicas are displayed in the state Capitol rotunda; and

Whereas, A prominent young citizen of Jackson, Michigan, has led fundraising efforts for the installation of signs denoting the 102nd United States Colored Troops Memorial Highway, as well as for conservation and a replica of a battle flag presented to the 102nd United States Colored Troops in 1864 by the Colored Ladies Aid Society of Detroit; and

Whereas, The heroism and sacrifice of the soldiers of the 102nd United States Colored Troops are worthy of our deepest gratitude and emulation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare June 9, 2021, as 102nd United States Colored Troops Day in the state of Michigan.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,
The resolution was adopted.

Rep. Garza, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

HB 4680 creates a secret committee, composed of handpicked politicians, who would meet behind closed doors. A culture of secrecy is dangerous, particularly in a democracy. The right way to work on ethics and ethical issues is as a community, in the light of day, where undue influence and the power of concealment cannot play a role. I welcome a real discussion and action on an ethics committee that puts the authority in the hands of our residents.”

Rep. Kuppa, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

HB 4680-83 create a secret committee, composed of handpicked politicians, who would meet behind closed doors. A culture of secrecy is dangerous, particularly in a democracy. The right way to work on ethics and ethical issues is as a community, in the light of day, where undue influence and the power of concealment cannot and do not play a role. I strongly support robust, public financial disclosure for public officials. The legislation presented today allows important financial information to remain behind closed doors. These bills simply don’t go far enough.”

Rep. Rogers, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

I voted ‘no’ on House Bills HB 4680-4686 because I strongly support robust, public financial disclosure for public officials. The legislation presented today allows important financial information to remain behind closed doors. These bills simply don’t go far enough, and the public has a right to know about this information.”

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

HBs 4684-4686 perpetuate a culture of politicians overseeing politicians. It is vital that we, the ‘politicians’, are open and honest with the citizens of Michigan about our financial interests, so that the voters can hold us accountable. These bills, rather than mandating true disclosure to the people, substitute a secret filing to a committee composed of handpicked politicians, whose meetings will not be subject to the open meetings act. Let’s get to work on passing real financial disclosure and transparency for our state.”

The House agreed to the title of the bill.

Rep. Frederick moved that the bill be given immediate effect.

The motion prevailed, 2/3 of the members serving voting therefor.

Rep. Garza, having reserved the right to explain his protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

HBs 4684-4686 perpetuate a culture of politicians overseeing politicians. It is vital that we, the ‘politicians’, are open and honest with the citizens of Michigan about our financial interests, so that the voters can hold us accountable. These bills, rather than mandating true disclosure to the people, substitute a secret filing to a committee composed of handpicked politicians, whose meetings will not be subject to the open meetings act. Let’s get to work on passing real financial disclosure and transparency for our state.”

Rep. Kuppa, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

I strongly support robust, public financial disclosure for public officials. The legislation presented today allows important financial information to remain behind closed doors. These bills simply don’t go far enough.”

Rep. Rogers, having reserved the right to explain her protest against the passage of the bill, made the following statement:

“Mr. Speaker and members of the House:

I voted ‘no’ on House Bills HB 4680-4686 because I strongly support robust, public financial disclosure for public officials. The legislation presented today allows important financial information to remain behind closed doors. These bills simply don’t go far enough, and the public has a right to know about this information.”

EXECUTIVE ORDER
No. 2021-6
Task Force on Juvenile Justice Reform
Executive Office of the Governor

Michigan is a national leader in criminal justice reform. We have demonstrated our commitment to bipartisan, data-driven reform through our collaborative success expanding access to expungement and reforming our jail and pretrial incarceration systems. Launched in 2019, the Jails and Pretrial Incarceration Task Force found significant growth in county jail populations, costing taxpayers nearly half a billion dollars annually. The Task Force recommended extensive state policy changes related to traffic violations, arrests, behavioral health diversion, pretrial release and detention, speedy trials, sentencing, probation and parole, financial barriers for system-involved individuals, victim services, and data collection. The Michigan Legislature passed many of the Task Force recommendations with bipartisan support in December of 2020, which were signed into law on January 4, 2021.

In the last several years, Michigan has also made many improvements to its juvenile justice system that can serve as a foundation for continued reform. These changes include the adoption of “state pays first” legislation, state legislative action to “raise the age” of automatic adult adjudication, as well as the many efforts happening at the county level to improve outcomes for young people in the juvenile justice system. However, even with these improvements, Michigan still detains youth at one of the highest rates in the nation and is nearly unparalleled in our practice of detaining youth for non-criminal behavior.

A growing body of research has also enabled policy leaders to better understand which practices best deter delinquency and rehabilitate young people. Jurisdictions across the country have generated innovative models for juvenile justice reform that could inform policy discussions or be adapted to improve system outcomes in Michigan.

The elected leaders of this state are committed to good government, transparency, responsible stewardship of taxpayer resources, and to the constitutional guarantees of liberty, due process, and equal protection of the laws.

The Task Force on Juvenile Justice Reform is necessary to lead a data-driven analysis of our juvenile justice system and recommend proven practices and strategies for reform grounded in data, research, and fundamental constitutional principles. This task force will exist as a partnership between county and state leaders, as well as other leaders involved in the juvenile justice system.

Section 1 of article 5 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 vests the executive power of the State of Michigan in the governor.

Section 4 of article 5 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 authorizes the establishment of temporary commissions or agencies for special purposes.
