Rep. Laurie Pohutsky, from the 19th District, offered the following invocation:

“Today, let us reflect on the importance of the work we do in this chamber, but also the example we set for the people of Michigan. We’re elected to represent and reflect every corner of our state and called upon to be leaders in good times and bad. The last fifteen months have been among the most challenging for most of us. We have been tasked with guiding Michiganders through a turbulent, frightening, and truly unprecedented time. We have had to make some difficult decisions and face some hard truths. There has been grief and loss, including here in this chamber with the passing of Representative Isaac Robinson.

But there has also been joy and triumph. We have grown back stronger as a state and a community. Being able to spend time with loved ones who we were separated from has shown us that the sacrifices we made were not in vain. As Harvey Milk once said, ‘Hope is being able to see that there is light despite all of the darkness.’ It is incumbent upon us to model that hope to our communities even in the darkest of hours. It is crucial that we always be intentional with the messages we relay to those we represent, as the words we use today are seeds that grow into what we must reap tomorrow. Let’s work together to foster the hope that has carried our state through this crisis and build upon it for a better future for all Michiganders.”

Rep. Frederick moved that Rep. Albert be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.
