Rep. Jennifer Conlin, from the 48th District, offered the following invocation:

“As we all gather here today in friendship and community, taking a moment out of our busy lives.... to learn, share and reflect on the insights, experiences and wisdom of others, we are reminded of how blessed we all are. In the current world around us there are many who suffer and face grave challenges. We stand in solidarity with them in compassion and by practicing loving kindness to ourselves and all those around us.

Let us pray the following in the name of all that is good.

May we all be well, happy and peaceful, May no harm come to us,

May we all also have patience, courage, understanding, and determination to meet and overcome inevitable difficulties, problems, and failures in life.

May our parents, our teachers and mentors, our friends and may all living beings across the world...be well, happy and peaceful. May no harm come to them,

May they also have patience, courage, understanding, and determination to meet and overcome inevitable difficulties, problems, and failures in life.”

The Speaker called the Speaker Pro Tempore to the Chair.

Rep. Posthumus moved that Rep. Bruck be excused from today’s session.
The motion prevailed.

House Resolution No. 53.

A resolution to declare March 8, 2023, as International Women's Day in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, March 8, 2023, marks the 112th anniversary of the celebration of International Women's Day. Originally beginning in response to terrible working conditions and exploitation, 15,000 women took to the streets in New York protesting the terrible working conditions they endured. It is celebrated on March 8 of every year; and

Whereas, International Women's Day is a global day celebrating the economic, political, and social achievements of women in the past, present, and future. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements, regardless of divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic, or political. It is an occasion for looking back on past struggles and accomplishments and, more importantly, for looking ahead to the untapped potential and opportunities that await future generations of women; and

Whereas, In different regions the focus of the celebrations ranges from general celebration of respect, appreciation, and love towards women to a celebration for women's economic, political, and social achievements; and

Whereas, The earliest Women's Day observance was held in 1909 in New York and was organized in remembrance of the strike of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union. At the second International Women's Conference in 1910, the first International Women's Day was officially established to promote equal rights, including suffrage, for women. The following year, International Women's Day was marked by over a million people in Austria, Denmark, Germany, and Switzerland. The efforts of early European pioneers led to women gaining the right to vote, to hold public office, and the establishment of many early prohibitions against employment sex discrimination; and

Whereas, In 1975, during the United Nations (UN) International Year for Women, the UN held its first official celebration of International Women's Day. Two years later, in December 1977, the General Assembly adopted a resolution proclaiming a United Nations Day for Women's Rights and International Peace to be observed by member states. In adopting this resolution, the General Assembly recognized the role of women in peace efforts and development and urged an end to discrimination and an increase of support for women's full and equal participation; and

Whereas, Beginning in 1996, International Women's Day organizers began adopting a theme to each year's celebrations that reinforces its commitment to women's rights and world peace; and Successful campaigns centered on such themes as "Celebrating the Past, Planning for the Future" (1996) and "Women in Decision-Making" (2006); and

Whereas, Presidents of the United States have consecutively declared March to be Women's History Month since 1988 after the National Women's History Project petitioned the United States Congress in 1987 for recognition of Women's History Month, and have since announced the 2021 theme of "Valiant Women of the Vote: Refusing to be Silenced continues to celebrate the Suffrage Centennial"; and

Whereas, On the occasion of 2010 International Women's Day, the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) drew attention to the hardships displaced women endure by spreading awareness of the displacement of populations as one of the gravest consequences of today's armed conflicts; and

Whereas, There are more than 3.8 billion women in the world today. Women around the world participate in the political, social, and economic life of their communities, play a critical role in providing and caring for their families, contribute substantially to the growth of economies, and, as both farmers and caregivers, play an important role in advancing food security for their communities; and

Whereas, The advancement of women is a public policy priority for our country and the state of Michigan. The ability of women to realize their full potential is critical to the ability of a country and state to achieve strong and lasting economic growth and social stability; and

Whereas, Since 2018, the three highest governmental positions held in Michigan are all occupied by women: Governor Gretchen Whitmer, Attorney General Dana Nessel, and Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson; and

Whereas, 2020 saw a historic shattering of a glass ceiling with the election of Kamala Harris as the first African American female Vice-President of the United States. The hope is that someday soon the ultimate glass ceiling will be shattered with the election of the first female U.S. President; and

Whereas, 2022 was another year for women's history, seeing Supreme Court Justice Ketanji Brown-Jackson become the first African American woman to serve on the most esteemed court in the United States of America; and

Whereas, 2022 saw another monumental moment for the state of Michigan with the appointment of former State Representative Kyra Harris Bolden to the Michigan Supreme Court making her the first African American woman to serve on the highest court in the state; and

Whereas, Additionally in 2023, the state legislature saw great historical leaps in women representing all kinds of diverse entities, highlighted by Senator Winnie Brinks, who in 2023, became the first woman to serve as the majority leader in the Michigan Senate.

Whereas, Although strides have been made in recent decades, women around the world continue to face significant obstacles in all aspects of their lives, including underrepresentation in all aspects of public life, denial of basic human rights, and discrimination; and

Whereas, Despite some achievements by individual women leaders, women around the world are still vastly underrepresented in high level positions and in national and local legislatures and governments and, according to the Inter-Parliamentary Union, women account for only 25 percent of national parliamentarians; and

Whereas, Women remain underrepresented in conflict prevention and conflict resolution efforts, despite proven successes by women in conflict-affected regions in moderating violent extremism, resolving disputes through non-violent mediation and negotiation, and stabilizing their societies by improving access to peace and security services, institutions, and decision-making venues; and

Whereas, March 8 is recognized each year as International Women's Day, a global day to celebrate the economic, political, and social achievements of women past, present, and future, and a day to recognize the obstacles that women still face in the struggle for equal rights and opportunities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the members of this legislative body declare March 8, 2023, as International Women's Day in the state of Michigan. We support the goals of International Women's Day, recognize that the empowerment of women is inextricably linked to the potential of countries to generate economic growth, sustainable democracy, and inclusive security, honor the women in the United States and around the world who have worked throughout history to ensure that women are guaranteed equality and basic human rights, reaffirm the movement's commitment to ending discrimination and violence against women and girls, to ensuring the safety and welfare of women and girls, and to pursuing policies that guarantee the basic human rights of women and girls worldwide, and encourage the people of Michigan to observe International Women's Day with appropriate programs and activities.

House Resolution No. 54.

A resolution to declare March 2023 as National Social Work Month in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, The social work profession exists to protect the rights and humanity of everyone, with a particular dedication to serving those most marginalized; and

Whereas, Social workers enter the profession because they have a strong desire to help empower individuals, families, communities, and our nation overcome issues that prevent them from reaching their full potential; and

Whereas, Social workers follow a code of ethics that call on them to fight social injustice and respect the dignity and worth of all people; and

Whereas, This year's Social Work Month theme "Social Work Breaks Barriers," embodies the spirit of the profession's challenge to structures that cause hardships for everyday people, and honors the labor of social workers in progressing forward movements for racial, gender, and socioeconomic justice; and

Whereas, Social workers, throughout history, have worked within organizations promoting justice and alongside politicians, advocates, and other leaders alike to help communities overcome natural disaster, economic distress, and political divisiveness; and

Whereas, School social workers have worked relentlessly with vulnerable populations including children during the pandemic; and

Whereas, Social workers contribute greatly to the nation's healthcare system, and played a crucial role in local, state, and national responses to COVID-19, assisting individuals with issues pertaining to physical health, emotional health, and general well-being; and

Whereas, Social workers are the largest group of mental health care providers in the United States, working daily to help thousands of Americans overcome mental illnesses such as depression and anxiety; and

Whereas, Social workers are on the frontlines of the nation's opioid addiction crisis, helping people get the treatment they need and prevail over substance use disorders; and

Whereas, Social workers help people cope with death and grief and helped people and communities recover from natural disasters that are increasingly fueled by our warming climate, including hurricanes, drought and flooding; and

Whereas, Social Workers have helped this nation live up to its values by advocating for equal rights for all, including Black, Indigenous, and other people of color, people who are LBGTQIA2S+, or people who follow various faiths; and

Whereas, Social work is one of the fastest growing professions in the United States, with over 708,000 current social workers in the U.S., and more than 60,000 expected to enter the profession over the next decade; and

Whereas, Social workers are prepared to continue their efforts in aiding the nation towards greater equity; now, therefore, be it

Whereas, School social workers are exceptionally skilled in providing services to students who face serious challenges to school success, including disability, poverty, discrimination, abuse, neglect, mental illness, homelessness, bullying, familial stressors, and other barriers to learning; and

Whereas, School-based mental health programs are critical to early identification of and early intervention for mental health problems and school mental health programs are critical to the early identification of mental health problems and in the provision of appropriate services; and

Whereas, School social workers, being licensed mental health professionals in schools in the United States, provide necessary assessment, interventions, counseling, family outreach, and community referrals. School social workers maintain knowledge of school culture and school climate which are necessary for responsible school safety planning; and

Whereas, Research indicates that school mental health programs led by school social workers improve educational outcomes by decreasing absences, dropout rates, and discipline referrals, while improving academic achievement; and

Whereas, School social workers serve as vital members of a school's education team, playing a central role in creating partnerships between the home, school, and community to ensure student academic success; and

Whereas, School districts and local educational agencies should continue to work with school social workers to address students' social, emotional, physical, mental health, and environmental needs so that students may achieve academic success; and
