Motions and Resolutions

Reps. Conlin, Miller, Byrnes, Steckloff, Rheingans, Hope, Coffia, Stone, Glanville, Arbit, MacDonell, Skaggs, Haadsma, Koleszar, Martus, Brixie, Wilson, Wegela, McKinney, Hill, Hood and Bezotte offered the following concurrent resolution:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

A concurrent resolution to urge the United States Congress, Department of Defense, and Department of Veterans Affairs to prioritize research and investment in non-technology treatment options for servicemembers and veterans who have psychological trauma as a result of military service.

Whereas, The men and women who voluntarily sign-up to serve our nation in the United States Armed Forces, and the additional uniformed services, generally do so with an understanding that such service may ultimately impact their physical and mental well-being. Even with this knowledge, they still answer the call to serve; and

Whereas, Members of the active-duty Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Navy, and Space Force, and their reserve components, the Army and Air National Guard, may have experiences that increase the risk for developing behavioral health problems, including traumatic brain injury, post-traumatic stress disorder, and depression. Effective treatment options for these conditions vary from servicemember to servicemember; and

Whereas, Upon return from a deployment, members of the reserve components and the National Guard are demobilized and must reintegrate back into civilian life, while simultaneously losing access to the full range of services offered by the military health system and having to emotionally deal with the same experiences as their active-duty counterparts; and

Whereas, Non-technology treatment options, such as buddy-to-buddy programs, controlled use of psychedelics in clinical settings, outdoor therapy, and easier access to service animals, among others, have shown promise to help veterans improve their mental health and find a new normal while dealing with the invisible wounds of war and service; and

Whereas, The families of servicemembers must also not be forgotten, and resources should be made available to help them understand and assist their loved ones who may be suffering from psychological trauma. Family members of servicemembers or veterans with behavioral health problems may experience family violence and aggression, lower parenting satisfaction, and child behavior problems. Resources should include services that will help family members deal with the impacts of their family members’ service; and

Whereas, The need to address veteran mental health is of key importance in Michigan. In 2021, it was reported that there were 554,281 veterans living in Michigan, making Michigan rank eleventh out of fifty-three states and territories in veteran population. However, between 2016 and 2020, it was reported that there were 882 Michigan veterans who died by suicide; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That we urge the United States Congress, Department of Defense, and Department of Veterans Affairs to prioritize research and investment in non-technology treatment options for servicemembers and veterans who have psychological trauma as a result of military service; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, the Chair and Ranking Members of the Committees on Veterans Affairs and Armed Services, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The concurrent resolution was referred to the Committee on Military, Veterans and Homeland Security.

Reps. Rogers, Mentzer, McFall, Wilson, Rheingans, Stone, Mueller, Schmaltz, Outman, Bezotte, Markkanen, Jaime Greene, Roth, Hill, Miller, Neeley, Edwards, Coffia, Snyder, Hood, Steckloff, Byrnes, Coleman and Haadsma offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 119.

A resolution to urge the United States Food and Drug Administration to facilitate FDA regulated research on hyperbaric oxygen therapy for the treatment of Traumatic Brain Injury and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Whereas, Traumatic Brain Injury and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, the signature wounds of wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, affect an estimated 877,450 veterans. Both conditions are significant health issues and can lead to increased suicide rates and opioid use among veterans; and

Whereas, Michigan has a veteran population of approximately 567,919. Of the veterans who were deployed, it is estimated that 20 percent suffer from Traumatic Brain Injury and 8 percent will have Post Traumatic Stress Disorder within their lifetimes. Hyperbaric oxygen therapy has been proven safe and effective to treat these conditions; and

Whereas, The Food and Drug Administration has cleared hyperbaric chambers to treat a variety of conditions much like these brain wounds, including non-healing wounds, crush injuries, air emboli, burns, severe skin and bone infections, and radiation injury, among others; and

Whereas, Hyperbaric oxygen therapy has shown promising results for veterans. Over 7,500 cases in scientific and clinical trials have demonstrated that hyperbaric oxygen therapy helps treat brain wounds. Since 2007, over 750 patients have been successfully treated for Traumatic Brain Injury and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder with hyperbaric oxygen therapy in neurological studies and trials, and over 10,000 veterans and citizens have been successfully treated in private clinics to heal brain wounds that the VA and DOD have been unable to heal. In these studies, hyperbaric oxygen therapy was shown to repair brain tissue, improve quality of life of patients, and reduce suicidal ideation, which will then help military families and communities; and

Whereas, It is predicted that treating brain wounds will have a positive economic impact and ensure that our veterans have access to care that addresses the entirety of their needs. Over 109,000 veteran suicides have occurred since September 11, 2001, and within the last two decades, the suicide rate increased consecutively for over fifteen years; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the United States Food and Drug Administration to facilitate FDA regulated research on hyperbaric oxygen therapy for the treatment of Traumatic Brain Injury and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Commissioner of the United States Food and Drug Administration.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Military, Veterans and Homeland Security.
