The House of Representatives has passed the bill and ordered that it be given immediate effect.

The bill was read a first and second time by title and referred to the Committee on Labor.

Statements

Senator Chang asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator Chang’s statement is as follows:

Tomorrow marks three years. On May 25, 2020, my older daughter was four years old when George Floyd was murdered by a police officer in Minneapolis. The officer knelt on his neck for nine minutes as other officers stood by and failed to intervene. I remember explaining to my daughter in very basic terms what happened. She was sad and asked why the other officers didn’t stop the bad one. It broke my heart. We lit a candle outside our home for nine minutes.

Last year, my daughter was six years old when Patrick Lyoya was shot in the head by a police officer in Grand Rapids. He was a 26-year-old refugee from eastern Congo with two children. I never found the right words to explain to my daughter what happened to Patrick. How do you explain to a child that in a city only a few hours from home, an unarmed Black man was shot in the back of his head by the police after being pulled over?

This January, my daughter was seven years old when Tyre Nichols was beaten by the police in Memphis. He was 29 years old. He was a skateboarder and a photographer, and he was pulled over for a traffic stop. He was only a few blocks away from home and called out for his mama as he was being beaten and kicked to death.

We cannot wait until my daughter is ten years old, or twelve years old, or becomes a young woman for changes to our law enforcement system. We cannot wait for a future in which Black lives are truly valued and in which people are treated with dignity by every officer who swears an oath to serve and protect.

Here in the Michigan Legislature, we are working on bipartisan bills to improve police practices, accountability and transparency. These bills build off the bipartisan work from last term. These are policies that can lead to fewer police killings per capita and can improve safety for officers and the community.

We can save lives by requiring agencies to have policies regarding an officer’s duty to intervene by using a verbal warning before using physical force, exhausting other alternatives before using deadly force, banning chokeholds, and responsible foot pursuits. We can prevent suffering by limiting the use of no-knock warrants which have caused harm to Michiganders and in the case of Breonna Taylor, led to her death. By requiring training of law enforcement officers in behavioral health, de-escalation and implicit bias, we can change the way that we respond to crises. By ensuring independent investigations of use of excessive force, we can improve accountability. By updating our license revocation laws, we can give law enforcement leaders more tools to get rid of the rare bad cops that have caused death or serious injury. And by providing some funding to law enforcement agencies to become accredited programs or purchase body cameras, we will enhance safety for officers and the public.

According to YouGov polling from 2022, 78 percent of Michigan voters believe the officers should be required to give a verbal warning before using force; 71 percent support a policy requiring officers to use de-escalation strategies; 67 percent support banning chokeholds, and the list goes on. George Floyd was murdered three years ago tomorrow, and his death sparked a reckoning in our country. Yet, law enforcement officers have killed roughly 1,100 people each year and that pace has not changed since 2020.

This year, we have an opportunity to make good on the kinds of systemic change that many of our community members have called out for. My kids, your kids, and their generation deserve a better future that has a more fair, just and equitable system of law enforcement, and as elected leaders we have the responsibility to do everything we can to build that future for them.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to the order of
Motions and Communications

The President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, assumed the Chair.

The following communication was received and read:
Office of the Senate Majority Leader

May 23, 2023

Pursuant to rule 3.203(c) I reassign Senate Bills 348 and 349 to the Committee on Housing and Human Services.

Respectfully,
Winnie Brinks
Senate Majority Leader
29th District

The communication was referred to the Secretary for record.

Senator Singh moved that the rules be suspended and that the following bills, now on Committee Reports, be placed on the General Orders calendar for consideration today:

Senate Bill No. 302

Senate Bill No. 303

Senate Bill No. 288

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of General Orders

Senator Singh moved that the Senate resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole for consideration of the General Orders calendar.

The motion prevailed, and the President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, designated Senator Camilleri as Chairperson.

After some time spent therein, the Committee arose; and the President, Lieutenant Governor Gilchrist, having resumed the Chair, the Committee reported back to the Senate, favorably and without amendment, the following bills:

Senate Bill No. 302, entitled

A bill to amend 2010 PA 270, entitled “Property assessed clean energy act,” by amending section 9 (MCL 460.939), as amended by 2017 PA 242.

Senate Bill No. 288, entitled

A bill to amend 2012 PA 615, entitled “Michigan energy assistance act,” by repealing section 6 (MCL 400.1236), as amended by 2019 PA 87.

The bills were placed on the order of Third Reading of Bills.

The Committee of the Whole reported back to the Senate, favorably and with a substitute therefor, the following bill:

Senate Bill No. 303, entitled

A bill to amend 2010 PA 270, entitled “Property assessed clean energy act,” by amending the title and sections 3, 5, 7, 11, 13, 15, and 17 (MCL 460.933, 460.935, 460.937, 460.941, 460.943, 460.945, and 460.947), section 3 as amended by 2017 PA 242.

Substitute (S-1).

The Senate agreed to the substitute recommended by the Committee of the Whole, and the bill as substituted was placed on the order of Third Reading of Bills.

By unanimous consent the Senate returned to the order of
Motions and Communications

Senator Singh moved that the rules be suspended and that the following bills, now on Third Reading of Bills, be placed on their immediate passage:

Senate Bill No. 302

Senate Bill No. 303

Senate Bill No. 288

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of

In The Chair: President

The Senate agreed to the title of the bill.

Senator McDonald Rivet asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator McDonald Rivet’s statement is as follows:

I rise to ask for your support for Senate Bill No. 303. This is legislation to expand the current scope of eligible projects and property under the commercial property assessment clean energy program—or C-PACE. C-PACE is a commonsense approach to climate change which authorizes counties and cities to establish voluntary districts to promote energy efficiency. The C-PACE program has been successfully operating in Michigan for over a decade to help businesses make valuable energy savings investments. It is a pro-business economic development tool that uses 100 percent private capital and creates no liability for the state or local government.

Today it has enabled 67 projects across the state and resulted in over $332 million in energy savings. Borrowers—Senate Bill No. 303 will expand Michigan’s C-PACE market and increase the scope of projects that can access this important source of funding. Commercial property owners will be able to better leverage commercial PACE financing for investments that improve efficiency and lower their carbon footprint. Borrowers renovating existing buildings will be able to waive the current energy savings guarantee requirement and enable funding for projects that are beneficial and cost-effective over the long term, ensuring that new projects are energy efficient by requiring them to exceed the current energy code.

C-PACE is an optional tool for local municipalities to offer their commercial property owners. It has measures to ensure transparency and consumer protections, which include an independent baseline energy audit or modeling, a guarantee of investment-to-savings ratio, and a requirement for a public hearing and approval on projects.

As our state continues to work to mitigate the effects of PFAS, lead, heavy metal, floods, and severe weather, this legislation provides a tool for property owners to secure their businesses in an economical way that achieves savings. I ask for your support on this bill.

The President pro tempore, Senator Moss, resumed the Chair.

The following bill was read a third time:

Senate Bill No. 288, entitled

Protest

Senator Theis under her constitutional right of protest (Art. 4, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of Senate Bill No. 288 and moved that she be permitted to submit, in writing, her reasons for voting “no” for inclusion in a subsequent Journal.

The motion prevailed.

By unanimous consent the Senate proceeded to the order of Resolutions

Senator Singh moved that rule 3.204 be suspended to permit immediate consideration of the following resolutions:

Senate Resolution No. 54

Senate Resolution No. 55

The motion prevailed, a majority of the members serving voting therefor.

Senators McMorrow, Bayer, Wojno, Klinefelt, Irwin, Chang and Cavanagh offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 54.

A resolution to commemorate June 2023 as Gun Violence Awareness Month.

Whereas, We honor and remember all victims and survivors of gun violence, especially those affected by the tragedies at Michigan State University, as well as Oxford High School; and

Whereas, The effects of gun violence in the United States is pervasive and all-encompassing on every community; and

Whereas, Since 1968, more individuals have died from guns in the United States than have died in the battlefields of all the wars in United States’ history; and

Whereas, In 2023, over 16,000 Americans have already lost their lives to gun violence, including over 100 children under the age of 11; and

Whereas, June 2, 2023, will mark the 26th birthday of Hadiya Pendleton, a teenager who marched in President Obama’s second inaugural parade and was tragically shot and killed just three weeks later; and

Whereas, Following Hadiya’s death, her friends and classmates organized the “Wear Orange” movement to honor her life and all those whose lives have been impacted by gun violence. Today, orange is nationally recognized as the defining color of the gun violence prevention movement; and

Whereas, By wearing orange and commemorating National Gun Violence Awareness Month, Americans will raise awareness about gun violence and honor the lives and lost human potential of Americans stolen by gun violence; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body commemorate June 2023 as Gun Violence Awareness Month; and be it further

Resolved, That we encourage all citizens to support their communities’ efforts to prevent the tragic effects of gun violence and to honor and value human life.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Geiss, Brinks, Camilleri, Cherry, Hertel, McCann, McDonald Rivet, Moss, Polehanki, Santana, Shink and Singh were named co-sponsors of the resolution.

Senator McMorrow asked and was granted unanimous consent to make a statement and moved that the statement be printed in the Journal.

The motion prevailed.

Senator McMorrow's statement is as follows:

Today marks the fifth year in a row that I've stood before this body with a resolution to commemorate and recognize Gun Violence Awareness Month. A lot has happened since the first time I stood here with this resolution in 2019. Since 2019, gun violence has surpassed car accidents as the No. 1 cause of death for our children. Since 2019, we've seen devastation across our state from the Oxford High School shooting and the Michigan State shooting, putting Michigan once again in the national headlines with news reports that always begin, Another shooting, this time in Michigan. Another, this time.

Today also marks the one-year anniversary of the Uvalde school shooting in Uvalde, Texas, in which a 19-year-old shot and killed 19 children and two teachers—children whose bodies were so badly mutilated by an AR-15-style rifle that parents were asked to come back and give DNA samples to assist authorities in identifying their own children. Today I'm thinking of all the children who have had their childhoods suddenly and violently ripped from them, who have had to grow up, who have lost their innocence, and too often feel forced to become activists to ensure that no child ever has to go through what they've gone through.

Today I'm thinking of Alexandria Verner, my constituent from Clawson who was a junior at Michigan State when she was killed by a gunman just a few short months ago. I'm thinking of Detroit police officer Loren Courts, a young father who was shot and killed by a 19 year old with an AK-style semiautomatic pistol who left behind his 9-year-old daughter. Today I'm thinking of my childhood friend Nicole whose older brother was shot and killed in the Virginia Tech shooting, devastating our community and their family forever. Today I'm thinking of Mary Miller and Karen Kobaleck, two women who bravely told their stories of losing their loved ones, their brother, their children, to gun violence. Today I'm thinking of everyone who has been devastated by gun violence and everyone who has vowed not to accept this devastation as normal.

This year, Wear Orange Weekend will take place June 2 through 4 during which we wear orange to honor and remember everyone we've lost to gun violence. Today, five years after I first offered this resolution, I hope that this year will be different. I hope this will be the very first year that this resolution will actually be adopted. That we as a body as the Michigan Senate will finally stand united in saying that we recognize the epidemic of gun violence, that we honor those we've lost, and officially acknowledge June as Gun Violence Awareness Month and June 2 through 4 as Wear Orange Day, and that we may recommit ourselves to doing everything we can to end the epidemic of gun violence so that we may never have to hear the news reports that too often begin with such a familiar refrain: Another shooting, this time.

Senator Nesbitt offered the following resolution:

Senate Resolution No. 55.

A resolution to recognize May 2023 as Neurofibromatosis Awareness Month.

Whereas, Although over two million people around the world are living with neurofibromatosis (NF) and one in every 3,000 births is diagnosed with NF, it is still relatively unknown to the public; and

Whereas, NF affects all populations equally, regardless of race, ethnicity, or gender; and

Whereas, NF causes tumors to grow on nerves throughout the body and also can affect development of the brain, cardiovascular system, bones, and skin. The disorder can also lead to blindness, deafness, bone abnormalities, disfigurement, learning disabilities, disabling pain, and cancer; and

Whereas, The Children's Tumor Foundation (CTF) leads efforts to promote and financially sponsor world-class medical research aimed at finding effective treatments and, ultimately, a cure for NF; and

Whereas, CTF works to improve access to quality patient healthcare through its national NF Clinic Network and provides patient and family support through its information resources, youth programs, and local chapter activities; and

Whereas, Much remains to be done in raising public awareness of NF to help promote early diagnosis, proper management and treatment, prevention of complications, and support for research; now, therefore, be it Resolved by the Senate, That the members of this legislative body recognize May 2023 as Neurofibromatosis Awareness Month.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Senators Lauwers, Bayer, Bellino, Brinks, Cavanagh, Chang, Huizenga, Klinefelt, McCann, McMorrow, Moss, Polehanki, Shink, Singh, Theis, Victory and Wojno were named co-sponsors of the resolution.
